

The sexual abuse of a child is perhaps one of the most insidious and devastating injuries a human being can suffer. Unfortunately, sexual abuse of children occurs everywhere, and oftentimes, institutions could have prevented children from being abused.

The Attorneys at the Zalkin Law Firm:

- have represented hundreds of childhood sexual abuse survivors in nearly every imaginable context including abuse by clergymen, teachers, coaches, scout leaders, and others
- empower survivors to stand up to their abuser and others who allowed the abuse to occur
- provide an emotional benefit to clients as they begin to identify themselves as survivors rather than victims throughout the litigation process
- obtain monetary compensation for abuse survivors to continue their treatment programs, or embark on new treatments that were previously beyond their financial means
